information. HTTP access authentication is explained in "HTTP Authentication: Basic and Digest Access Authentication" [\[43\]](#).

10.4.3 402 Payment Required

This code is reserved for future use.

10.4.4 403 Forbidden

The server understood the request, but is refusing to fulfill it. Authorization will not help and the request SHOULD NOT be repeated. If the request method was not HEAD and the server wishes to make public why the request has not been fulfilled, it SHOULD describe the reason for the refusal in the entity. If the server does not wish to make this information available to the client, the status code 404 (Not Found) can be used instead.

10.4.5 404 Not Found

The server has not found anything matching the Request-URI. No indication is given of whether the condition is temporary or permanent. The 410 (Gone) status code SHOULD be used if the server knows, through some internally configurable mechanism, that an old resource is permanently unavailable and has no forwarding address. This status code is commonly used when the server does not wish to reveal exactly why the request has been refused, or when no other response is applicable.

Getting Paid

- “Most creators want to share while being fairly compensated, attributed, and recognized.” (IT professional)
- “If no one’s making money, I’ll gladly give my work for free. If people are getting paid, then the artist also needs to get paid.” (Nonprofit)
- “Unsplash weirds me out how open it is, and I almost feel bad sometimes. I go there when I’m in a quick jam. But I would rather pay $10 a month to CC for a massive archive where percentage goes back to creators and they are being credited.” (Designer)
- “I would rather give money directly to a musician.” (Screenwriter)

Reciprocity-based

- Memberships and Individual Donations
- The Pay-what-you-want Model
- Crowdfunding

Reengineering the reward system

To reinvent open we need to reengineer the reward system.
Imagine a mechanism that rewards works out there according to their degree of usage.
